MY TRUE LOVE.

My true love lies asleep;
In some most heavenly place;
She bath a lily in her hand,
A smile upon her face.
—Baltimore Sun.

My true love lies asleep;
She dreams of days of peace,
When phony curls shall pass away,
And hobbie skirts shall cease!
—Los Angeles Express.

My true love lies asleep,
And I would be there, too,
But our baby has the colic,
Which keeps me in a stew.
—St. Louis Times.

My true love lies asleep;
Don't wake her, let her snooze,
Her tongue is quiet, so be mum,
Or I'll be driven to booze.

CITY TRUSTEES

Regular meeting of board of trustees of city of Glendale was held on Monday, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p. m., all members being present. The customary demands were presented and referred to the finance committee, and those previously approved were reported and warrants in payment were ordered drawn, all members voting affirmatively.

F. Marquard was granted a permit to conduct a hand laundry on recommendation of the police and sanitary committee, such permit being subject to the pleasure of the board.

Weekly report of tax collector was received and referred to finance committee.

Reports of building inspector, marshal and special night watchman, street superintendent, city recorder, manager of electric light department and city clerk were received and placed on file.

Finance committee approved the report of treasurer for December, 1910. A communication from the Glendale Investment Co. was received and placed on file, stating that a grant deed to lots 19, 20 and 21 in block 59, town of Glendale in favor of the city has been deposited in escrow with the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., at a price of $4000.

J. A. Eppinger presented certificate of title and option on lots 19 and 20 block 50, town of Glendale, which with aforementioned communication was referred to city attorney.

An ordinance calling a special election to be held in the city of Glendale on the 17th day of March next, to submit to the qualified voters the proposition of incurring an indebtedness of eighteen thousand dollars for the purpose of acquiring real property for use as a free public library site and for a city hall, and for the construction of such city hall, providing for the issue of bonds therefor and for the levy of a tax for the payment of such bonds, was presented, passed to third reading and passed without dissenting vote.

The city clerk was instructed to notify the board of supervisors of the election called for May 21st for the purpose of voting to annex territory to the city of Glendale, which territory is included in the proposed incorporation of Tropic.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.

Pasadena has been selected this year as the convention city for the nineteenth annual convention of the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 24th, 25th, and 26th.

The Union of this county is the largest in the state, and their annual gatherings the past few years have been more largely attended than many of the eastern state conventions.

The convention will open Friday evening with an address by Dr. James Whitcomb Brounger, and will close Sunday night with an address by Carl Lehman of Boston, interstate field secretary of the United Society.

Pasadena is offering free entertainment to all delegates who will send their names to them five days before the convention opens.

A large delegation will go from this city, and the meetings promise to be one of the most important religious gatherings of the year.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The regular meeting next Tuesday afternoon the 14th, will be held at Filger's Opera house, and will be addressed by Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel; subject, "Patriotism." There will be some musical numbers on the program and Mrs. Hunchberger will give a reading. A general invitation is given to the public to attend and the teachers and pupils of the schools are specially invited.

RESOLUTION PASSED FAVORING BRIDGE.

A movement is on foot whereby it is possible that before a great while a bridge will be built to span the Arroyo Seco at Colorado avenue, Pasadena, thereby connecting Pasadena and the country on the east with Eagle Rock, Glendale, Tropic and the country on the west. With this object in view a meeting was called last Thursday morning at the site of the proposed bridge by the board of trade of Pasadena. At this meeting the chambers of commerce of Glendale, Hollywood, Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica were represented and the advisability of erecting the bridge was discussed. It was unanimously decided that the bridge is really necessary for the advancement of this section of the country and for the connection of the county boulevards.

At a special meeting held by the Glendale chamber of commerce last Friday the following resolution was passed by unanimous vote:

"To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county:

"Whereas, the good roads under the highway commission are being completed from Redlands to Santa Monica, through Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Tropic and Hollywood; and

"Whereas, there will be a broken link at the Arroyo Seco, at the west city limits of Pasadena, destroying the real usefulness of the highway for the purpose for which it is intended, unless the link is welded by a long and high bridge at that point; therefore

"Be it Resolved, That we hereby request and petition your honorable body to take the necessary steps immediately to co-operate and unite with the city of Pasadena in constructing the bridge across said stream in accordance with the suggestions and recommendations of County Surveyor Ivory Noble."

L. N. HURTT, President.
E. B. RIGGS, Secretary.

MARRIAGE FOLLOWS ROMANCE.

Miss Nellie Constance Bostrom of Los Angeles, formerly of St. Paul, Minn., and Stuart Steelman of this place, were married February 5 by Rev. J. W. Maddox, pastor of the University Christian church of Los Angeles, the ceremony taking place at the home of Mr. Maddox, 3965 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles. Only relatives of the contracting parties were present. The young couple were accompanied by Laurence Rising as best man, and Mrs. Rising as matron of honor.

The marriage of these young people comes as a culmination of an unusual romance, which started at a Christmas entertainment held at the University Christian church in 1908.

At that time Miss Bostrom was in California visiting with her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Bostrom of 3913 Normandie avenue, Los Angeles.

About six months after Miss Bostrom went back to her home in St. Paul, Steelman followed. Upon his return to California, Mr. Steelman worked for about a year in San Francisco, but during the last few months he has been in this city preparing a cozy home at 1104 West Seventh street.

Mrs. Steelman is a graduate of the St. Paul Central high school and has taken a course in the Cumnook School of Expression in Los Angeles. She is a talented reader.

Mr. Steelman is a drapery designer and is popular in business circles in Los Angeles and San Francisco.—Express.

RECREATION HALL.

Many organizations exist in Glendale, with clever by-laws and rules of order properly governing the various organizations. Free from all conventionalities with social motives, a band of twelve matrons meet twice a month for purely social pleasures, and call themselves the Recreation Club. The number is limited to twelve and the meetings are held at the homes of the members. Tuesday found the club assembled at the home of Mrs. R. E. Whitaker, a charming bride of last June, and a happy afternoon was had. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Bartlett, Brand boulevard, on February 21, at 2:30.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Ruth Mathieson and Arthur Mathieson, of You Bet, Nevada County, have entered the high school.

Miss Ruth Paulius is taking a post-graduate course.

Miss George Duffet, of the eleventh year, has been absent on account of illness for several days.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week were taken up by the semi-annual examinations.

Report cards for the second semester were issued Tuesday, and work of the new semester was taken up Monday.

Francis Humphrey has left high school.

George Benson and Richard Stine, of U. S. C., visited the school Wednesday.

Monday noon the Hungarian Quartet, which has given several programmes at the moving picture show, visited the high school and played a number of selections for the students, which were thoroughly appreciated.

The programme board in the hall has been completed, and contains an accurate list of the teachers, with their rooms, subjects and correct periods.

The boys have taken up practice for track athletics, and show their interest by making their own standards for the high jump and pole vaulting. A number of the students are laying out the running track.

The inter-class track meet will be held on Tuesday afternoon, February 14.

Another musical is being planned by the students for the afternoon of the 24th. Mr. C. S. Delano, of Los Angeles, will give a number of selections, which will add very materially to the programme.

Lincoln Day exercises will be held on Monday morning, and the afternoon will be a half holiday.

A SPRINGTIME DISPLAY.

The artistic display of spring and summer fabrics held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at George E. Williams' dry goods store, on the corner of Fourth street and Glendale avenue, was certainly well worth inspecting. The fact that it was appreciated was shown by the very large number of visitors who attended the opening.

The window decorations and the store throughout were characteristic of a skilled hand and artistic eye. An especially pretty feature was the window of white and lavender organdies and ribbons, violets and ferns.

Particular attention was given to the exquisite combinations of color and materials, every one of which was in perfect harmony.

The exhibition showed not only a great many laws, dimities and organdies, but a large assortment of pretty gingham, cambrics and other domestic goods.

The displays of ribbons and laces showed a variety of new designs, both pleasing and practical, a noteworthy point in favor of all the selections.

SIXTH STREET PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The regular monthly meeting of the association will be held Friday afternoon, February 10, at 3:15. The topic will be the "Moral Training of the Child From the Standpoint of Mother, Teacher and Physician." Speakers will be Mrs. Wilmot Parober, Miss Noggle and Dr. Jessie A. Russell. The subject should be one of vital interest to every mother who has the welfare of her child at heart. A general discussion will follow the addresses.

Everyone interested in the subject is cordially invited to be present.

The association will entertain the fathers of the school at a literary and musical evening, Saturday, February 11, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Robert P. McMullen, Mrs. S. D. Roach and Mrs. Wayne P. Snow compose the committee in charge.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given Wednesday night in Filger's Hall for the float fund was of a very high order. This entertainment had been postponed twice because of rain. We understand that there were other things doing in town that night, which probably accounted for the small audience. Those there, however, were appreciative.

INVESTMENT.

$1200 invested in a 4-room furnished house on lot 50x150, rented for $193 per year. Figure income, then see Ernest H. Owen Company, 306 Brand boulevard.

THE LEGISLATURE

The committee on State hospitals and asylums, the assembly committee on commerce and navigation and two or three other committees, have made their "junketing" trips or are now enjoying them. The public should not understand however that these trips made to various parts of the state inspecting state institutions are a useless expenditure of public money—sometimes they are quite necessary and the present legislature is not likely to allow a great deal of the public money to be squandered in this way; it will all be needed to put the new machinery in operation. The suffrage bill, the race track measure, and other important measures, have been put through in the last ten days. The most of them ran down the skids provided by the administration without any friction to speak of, but the most interesting matters, those in which a difference of opinion is likely to be developed, are yet to come. In the measure unexpectedly last week and culminated vociferously for some time about the "rights of American workingmen—the Japanese menace, etc.," but the Republican members turned him down by referring his resolution to committee by a vote of 25 to 11. The board of control bill, a measure to do away with the state board of examiners and replace it by a commission of the governor's appointing, passed the assembly with the aid of the steam roller, but encountered some bumps. It is in line with the rest of the administration program to combine all possible power in the hands of the governor through commissions appointed by him, taking over powers at present exercised by municipalities. Chairman Randall's reappointment bill seems to stand a good chance for adoption, although there are others. The opposition to it naturally comes from those sections that will lose by it. Under this measure Sacramento stands to lose one assemblyman; San Francisco loses three senators and five assemblymen. Los Angeles is awarded eight senators and sixteen assemblymen. San Francisco will have but six senators and thirteen assemblymen, and naturally, being its power in the legislature comes second to Los Angeles, protests. The plan seems to be as fair, however, as any that can be devised; and if there is anything particularly wrong with it, Uncle Sam's census would seem to be responsible. One assembly measure that promises a real reform and will doubtless go through, is that in regard to the employment of convicts in the state penitentiaries. It provides for the manufacture in prison of various articles of usefulness. Union laborers who have heretofore opposed such measures and tried to prevent prisoners from doing anything useful, are said to favor the proposed law.

Fewer school holidays are aimed at in a bill introduced by Senator Holber, who wants to do away with the observance of some of the minor ones.

The number of bills introduced in the assembly is new in excess of the 1000 mark.

"HOT-FOOT THROUGH SOUTHERN EUROPE."

Is the subject of a stereoscopic entertainment to be given in Filger Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 17th, by Rev. Chas. H. Scott, pastor of Lincoln avenue church, Pasadena. Rev. Scott with his wife took this trip some time ago, and uses during the evening's discourse many views taken by himself, which, combined with his splendid platform ability, insures an evening of interest and profit, not usually secured at the price at which this is given.

This low price is made possible because the proceeds derived are given to missionary and benevolent work, and therefore merits the support of the people of Glendale, and to which those who are giving their time and energies (without monetary compensation) in the interests of the above, hope will be in a generous measure, and thus make the entertainment a financial success, and thereby the offering will be made a generous one.

Thus encouraging those in this line of effort, which will result in Glendale receiving in the future more in the line of high, moral entertainment.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The library has a number of the works of David Graham Phillips, which are being so widely read at the present time. Among them are: "The Deluge," "The Coast," "The Second Generation," "The Fortune Hunter," "The Master Rogue," and "Old Wives for New."

Mrs. John Danford, librarian, attended the sixth district library convention in San Bernardino. A number of topics of particular interest were discussed, among others, the story hour in the public library, and suiting the library to the demands of the community. Mr. Daniels, of the Riverside library, and Mr. Wright, of the Los Angeles library, gave instructive addresses on library work.

The Motor Maid, by C. N. and A. M. Williamson, McGraw-Hill's Poems and Masterpieces of Life of the Bee are recent additions.

EAGLE ROCK INCORPORATION.

At a hearing before the supervisors on Monday the decision was to the effect that in the matter of incorporation of Eagle Rock, all the protesting territory should be left out. This will eliminate the territory on which Occidental College is located.

MONTHLY BULLETIN CALIFORNIA DEVELOPMENT BOARD.

The census returns show that California has thirty-one towns of over 5000 population, and three of over 100,000. The aggregate gain for the state was $92,496, or 60.1 per cent, placing California twelfth in the line of states, instead of twenty-first, which place she has held since 1900.

Snowfall in the Mountains.

January, 1911, was a month of unusually heavy precipitation in all parts of California. The snowfall in the mountains was far above the normal, and at the close of the month the snow cover exceeded in extent and in depth that of any month for many years past. This condition followed a period of light precipitation. At the close of December, 1910, there was less snow in the mountains than had been known for many years. The ground had been at elevations which hitherto had been covered. The runoff was probably the lightest for any December and there was much anxiety lest the water shortage should continue. The long dry period was broken with a moderate snowfall on January 9th. This was followed by storms lasting practically to the end of the month. At the lower levels the rainfall was the heaviest since 1892. At the higher levels the accumulated snow on the ground varied from 10 to 20 feet. Warm rains during the last few days materially reduced the depth of the snow. At elevations of 7000 feet the snow was lowered about 6 feet. The runoff was abnormally heavy, and the rivers were all bank full.

The month closed with an abundant supply of water in sight and much water which ought to be stored running to waste.

Though January is the dull month of the year, every line of industry shows activity.

The government engineers announce the completion of the Orland irrigation project, covering 14,000 acres, and that three new ones are planned.

A project is on foot to put under irrigation 1,800,000 acres of the Miller & Lux Rancho, on the west side of the San Joaquin river.

Other irrigation and reclamation projects are under way in Tehama, Glenn, Colusa, Butte and other counties.

The influx of homeseekers continues unabated.

The acreage of wheat and barley will be largely increased.

There is extensive new planting of orchards, both deciduous and citrus. The vineyard acreage is also being enlarged. Mining and oil development is active.

Railroad building and extension is active.

The Colfax cut-off on the Southern Pacific is to be completed by July 1st.

A large sale of timber land, 163,000 acres, in Tehama to a Chicago syndicate is reported.

Congress has appropriated $747,000 for improvement of Humboldt Bay, and $20,000 for an Indian Industrial School at Gulduda in Yolo county.

A Trust Co. has been organized to construct a harbor at Crescent City, Del Norte Co.

One thousand two hundred and twenty-four new registrations of motor vehicles were made with the secretary of state during the month of December.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The pastor will preach at the 11 a. m. service on "The Look Upward and the Look Outward," and at the 7:30 p. m. service on the "Stories of the Trinity." Strangers are welcomed to all services.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Next Sabbath morning the pastor will take as his subject "The Book of Ruth." In the evening the subject will be: "The Lure of Love." The superintendent of the Sabbath school has inaugurated a contest between the boys and girls which is creating a great deal of interest. The Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:45 is growing in interest, and those who do not attend are missing some good things.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Second quarterly conference Saturday 8 p. m. District superintendent will preside.

Dr. Mather, the district superintendent, will preach Sunday morning and Sunday night. The pastor will deliver the last sermon of the Apostles Creed series, on "Everlasting Life."

Mrs. Annie Bailey will lead the Epworth League meeting Sunday evening.

Rev. Scott of Pasadena will lecture Friday night in Filger hall, under the auspices of the Epworth League.

Two united with church since last report.

We invite you to our services.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The Overton Realty Company report this week the following sales: Twelve acres of improved land near Burbank from William Young to C. H. Starkey, the price reported being $7500. This property is near the San Fernando road. This land is improved with a good six-room house, barn and a large number of fruit trees. Mr. Starkey and family have already moved on the property and will make their future home there.

Eighteen acres belonging to Joseph Shropshire about three miles west of Burbank to Mrs. W. W. Roe and R. S. Roe, recently of Illinois. About ten acres of this land is cleared, but not otherwise improved, while the remainder is still uncleared. The new owners will put up a small place on the land and will move on immediately. This section is developing rapidly. The price reported for this was $3000.

One acre on the Sycamore canyon road to O. A. Lane, trustee of this city, the price being stated at $1100. This property is planted to peach trees.

Lot on Louise street north of First street to William Day for the reported consideration of $500.

W. R. Walker was a heavy buyer in the new subdivision opened recently on Kenwood above First street. He purchased eight lots, size 50x150 feet, the reported price being $500 each.

Rehart & Preston report this week the following sales: Four lots on Kenwood street just north of First to S. V. Rehart for $1800. House and lot on Orange Grove avenue to Mr. Wales of Oklahoma, who have taken possession of the place.

The building inspector reports the following: $500 Swiss cottage for Miss Cora Stuart at Ninth and Brand boulevard. Strictly modern.

C. B. Cunningham contractor, addition and remodeling residence of Mrs. Stone, Chestnut and Louise streets, $700.

Mr. Hedges, Fifth and Franklin Court, $1500 cottage.

The Haines property on Verdugo road has been sold to a syndicate (probably Edwards & Wilkey) who will put it on the market at once in acre and half-acre lots. The property consists of 15 acres lying between Sixth and Ninth streets. A road will be opened on the north side, about on a line made by the continuation of Eighth street, running from Verdugo road eastward to connect with a road skirting the base of the hills connecting with Eagle Rock.

It is reported that Mr. Richardson's two-acre place on Verdugo road, formerly the property of T. W. Doyle, has also been sold.

IOWA PICNIC.

The twelfth annual Iowa picnic at Eastlake Park, Los Angeles, Wednesday, February 22, 1911. If rainy the picnic will be postponed to Saturday, February 25. All resident and visiting Iowans and their friends are always welcome at this great annual social reunion. Tell everybody about it. Come early. Bring your dinner. Stay all day.

"The county headquarters will be arranged as usual, as on the map of the state. Go there to meet your old friends. Buy a badge and so help support the association. Program and business meeting at state headquarters afternoon. Further information may be obtained from C. H. Parsons, Artesia, Cal., the secretary of the Iowa Association of Southern California.

TRAMPS ARRESTED.

On Tuesday night about 9 o'clock City Marshal Miller was notified that three tramps were asleep under the platform of Thom's packing house. The marshal and City Trustee Anderson and the night watchman went up and brought them to the city hall. Judge Whomes was called and committed them to the county jail for 30 days each.

Grand Concert

To be given Washington's Birthday, February 22d, at Filger's Hall, Glendale, by Mme. Bertha Amet, the world-famous soprano, and Herr Henry Schoenefeld, the far-famed pianist. Assisting artists will be Margaret O'Brien, reader, and Miss Elsa Grosser, violinist. This concert will be of a very high order and our people are urged to attend.

GLENDALE, CAL., FEBRUARY 10, 1911

A man who had lived quietly in California for years went back to his old Pennsylvania home, and was almost killed in a fight with two bears. And yet this is the "Wild and Woolly West."

We regret that a few pictures and some reading matter were crowded out of our special edition, but there is enough in it to serve as a first-class medium through which to disseminate information in regard to Glendale and vicinity.

OUR SPECIAL.

Our Special Midwinter edition of five thousand copies is now ready for distribution. Five cents per copy. Call at the NEWS office and get copies to send to your friends.

The Wichita Game Reservation in Oklahoma has recently received a consignment of antelope from Wyoming, one of the last of the few herds of this animal in existence, and a serious effort will be made to keep them from becoming extinct. In this reservation also is maintained the last remnant of the once great herds of American buffalo, 23 in number, 10 of them having been on the reservation.

All lovers of birds will rejoice to know that the bill brought before the legislature to remove the protection of the law from the meadow lark, is practically dead. The killing of this feathered songster with the liquid note, is still an offense against the law of the state, and should continue to be so. We note in this connection that there is considerable shooting within our city limits in disregard of the city ordinance, the offenders usually being boys and the victims small and harmless birds.

A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN.

Mr. J. F. Sartori, a bank president in Los Angeles, is serving as a trial juror in one of the city courts. When a warrant was given to him authorizing the payment of the money due for his services, Mr. Sartori refused to receive it, but being informed that it would remain to his credit until paid, he accepted it and turned the amount over to the Associated Charities. Mr. Sartori's refusal of the money was based upon his belief that every good citizen should be willing to do jury duty without hope of reward, and the act is sufficiently out of the ordinary, to be deserving of general commendation. The mere fact of his refusing his two dollars a day is not so important as that he, a banker whose time is supposed to be valuable, should be willing to serve as a juror at all. If Mr. Sartori's example should be generally followed and business men be willing to give their time to the service of the state instead of attempting to get excused when called upon, as they generally do, the cause of justice will be greatly assisted.

LINCOLN.

On Feb. 12th, one hundred and two years ago, in a log cabin near Hodgenville, Ky., was born Abraham Lincoln. And in that same or a similar log cabin he spent his boyhood years and laid the foundation of an education which was not inadequate to befit him for the elevated position of "first gentleman of the land."

Words of ours cannot do him sufficient honor, and we quote from those of the great Russian, Tolstol:

"Of all the great national heroes and statesmen of history Lincoln is the only real giant. Alexander, Frederick the Great, Caesar, Napoleon, Gladstone and even Washington stand in greatness of character, in depth of feeling, and in a certain moral power, far behind Lincoln. Lincoln was a man of whom a nation has a right to be proud; he was a Christ in miniature, a saint of humanity whose name will live thousands of years in the legends of future generations. We

A VALENTINE.

By J. S. Sherer.

Saint Valentine, Saint Valentine! A word before you go:
Say, have you seen my own sweetheart in valley down below?
That valley where the orange bloom perfumes the wintry air,
Where the red rose and the violet are blest in fragrance rare;
Saint Valentine, Saint Valentine, saw you my sweetheart there?

I saw a woman pluck a rose,
A red, red rose and rare;
I looked to see her deck herself
And place it in her hair.
But no, she touched another heart,
And dropped the red rose there.
She bended o'er a violet,
Blue as the sky above;
She plucked it from its leafy bed
And passed it on with love!

Saint Valentine, Saint Valentine, it was my own love true:
No need has she to deck her hair or wear the violet blue,
For the her love belongs to me, today I'll share with you!
The love that wells up from her heart so lavish and so free,
May have the whole world for its scope; it yet embraces me!

are still too near to his greatness and so, can hardly appreciate his divine power; but after a few centuries more, posterity will find him considerably bigger than we do. His genius is still too strong and too powerful for the common understanding, just as the sun is too hot when its light beams directly on us."

BACK TO THE PEOPLE.

Gov. Johnson has had considerable to say about "restoring the government to the people" and it is therefore proper that we note the manner in which he is doing it. He has removed from the position of state superintendent of banks, Mr. Alden Anderson, who has made a popular and very efficient officer. This action possibly has some justification, as the appointment of Mr. Anderson by Gov. Gillette just before he went out of office, was questionable policy and should not be encouraged. But the governor has appointed as the successor of Mr. Anderson, Mr. W. R. Williams, incumbent of the office of state treasurer, elected to that position by the people at the election in November last. Probably no one claims that Mr. Williams is pre-eminently qualified to fill the position of bank superintendent, as he is said to have had no experience as a banker. But the fact is this, Mr. Williams was elected state treasurer by the people to serve a term of four years. How is Mr. Johnson "turning the government back to the people," by removing from the position of state treasurer, the man whom the people elected, and putting in his place a man whom the people did not choose? There is only one answer to this question—Mr. Johnson is "the people."

THE RECALL AND THE JUDICIARY.

One of the objects of government among men is to protect the people from themselves. "The consent of the governed," if it means anything, means that the people who agree to submit to rules established and to be enforced by the representatives of their own selection, do so because they believe that a few men who shall devote their time to consideration of the questions of government, will be able to bring to bear upon the problems involved more wisdom than would the mass of the people. But the tendency of the many new laws proposed in this state today is directly opposed to this idea, and their proponents seem to be inspired by the thought that a few men selected for their special knowledge and fitness are less capable of acting wisely than are the people of all kinds and conditions acting in mass.

The proposed measures now before the legislature intended to bring about "direct legislation," include the recall, a provision for removing from office any state official whose acts may give offense to his constituents. Theoretically the proposed measure is justified by the assumption that the people who employ a public servant have the right to dismiss him. This proposition is irrefutable; but the thing which may be right in the abstract, is not necessarily the thing that is desirable in the concrete. There is considerable difference of opinion among the members of the legislature as to the wisdom of including the judiciary among the public officials subject to the recall. It is encouraging to note that in regard to this measure, at least, members are showing some evidence of a desire to judge the matter on its merits, rather than to swallow the program whole. Courts are established to administer justice among men, and two factors are to be considered in every case, viz., the law and the facts. In regard to the latter, assuming that they are easily attainable, the people at large may safely be supposed to be capable of passing judgment. But with the former it is very different and can only be done by those particularly qualified by a knowledge of the law to interpret it.

The people therefore delegate their power in the first place because of a sense of their own insufficiency. They have ample protection from possible dishonesty on the part of judges by reserving to themselves the right to impeach them, but this must be done by legal means and after hearing of evidence under oath. The recall would throw no such safeguard around the judiciary, but make it subject to the passing whim of the voters prejudiced by the heat of a political campaign. Nothing would be so prejudicial to the cause of justice as to have the judges on the bench, conscious at all times of the fact that their tenure of office depended not upon their rendering judgment in accordance with the law and the facts, but rather upon catering to popular desire. Fortunately the settlement of this question will be by the people in voting on the constitutional amendment, and not by the legislature. The danger lies, however, in mixing up so many issues that the people will be unable to intelligently digest them and will find after election is over that they have done things which were far from their real desire.

ORDINANCE No. 135.

AN ORDINANCE CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, ON THE 17TH DAY OF MARCH, 1911, AND SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID CITY THE PROPOSITION OF INCURRING AN INDEBTEDNESS IN THE SUM OF EIGHTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACQUIRING REAL PROPERTY FOR USE AS A FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY SITE, AND FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF SUCH CITY HALL; PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUE OF BONDS THEREFOR, AND FOR THE LEVY OF A TAX FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; DESIGNATING THE ELECTION PRECINCT AND POLLING PLACE; AND APPOINTING THE ELECTION OFFICERS FOR SAID ELECTION.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Whereas the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, at a regular adjourned meeting thereof held February 1st, 1911, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members duly passed and adopted a Resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition by said City of Glendale of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit, the acquisition of real property for use as a free public library site, and for a city hall, and for the construction of such city hall, and

Whereas, said Resolution was approved by the Executive of said City, to-wit, the President of said Board of Trustees, on said 1st day of February, 1911, at said meeting of said Board, and was duly published on the 3rd day of February, 1911, in THE GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, and

Whereas the estimated cost of said municipal improvement is Eighteen Thousand ($18,000.00) Dollars, and such cost is and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said City.

SECTION 2. Now, therefore, a special election is hereby called to be held in the said City of Glendale on the 17th day of March, 1911, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said City the proposition of incurring a debt for the purpose set forth in said Resolution and hereinafter stated.

SECTION 3. That the object and purpose for which said indebtedness is proposed to be incurred is for the acquisition by said City of Glendale of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit: The acquisition of real property for use as a free public library site, and for a city hall, and for the construction of such city hall. That the estimated cost of such proposed public improvement is Eighteen Thousand ($18,000.00) Dollars; that the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor is the sum of Eighteen Thousand ($18,000.00) Dollars, and that the rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness is five per cent per annum. That if the proposition of incurring the indebtedness for said purpose so submitted at such election receives the requisite number of votes, to-wit, two-thirds of the votes of all the voters voting at such special election, Bonds of said City to the amount of Eighteen Thousand ($18,000.00) Dollars shall be issued and sold for said purpose.

Said Bonds shall be forty-eight (48) in number and twenty-four (24) thereof shall be issued in the denomination of five hundred ($500.00) Dollars each, and twenty-four (24) thereof in the denomination of two hundred fifty ($250.00) Dollars each, and the principal and interest thereof shall be payable in lawful money of the United States. They shall be dated July 1st, 1911, and bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of July, and on the first day of January, of every year.

Said forty-eight (48) Bonds shall be payable in the manner following: One twenty-fourth (1-24th) part of the whole amount of such indebtedness shall be paid on the 1st day of July, 1912, and one twenty-fourth (1-24th) part of the whole amount of such indebtedness on the same day and date each and every year thereafter at the City Treasury of said City, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date.

SECTION 4. That for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on such bonds the Board of Trustees of said City of Glendale shall at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided levy and collect annually, each year, until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the Treasury of said City set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy.

Said tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

SECTION 5. The polls for said election shall be opened at six o'clock of the morning of the day of election, and must be kept open until six o'clock in the afternoon of the same day when the polls shall be closed, except as provided in Section 1164 of the Political Code of the State of California, as amended by Act approved March 20th, 1909.

The ballots to be used at such election shall be printed in the following form:

To vote on the proposition of incurring a debt for the purpose specified in such proposition, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square to the right of and opposite the answer you desire to give. ALL MARKS EXCEPT THE CROSS (X) ARE FORBIDDEN. ALL DISTINGUISHING MARKS OR ERASURES ARE FORBIDDEN AND MAKE THE BALLOT VOID.

If you WRONGLY STAMP, TEAR OR DEFACE THIS BALLOT, return it to the Inspector of Election and obtain another.

Shall the City of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $18,000 for the purpose of acquiring real property for use as a free public library site, and for a city hall, and for the construction of such city hall?

The voter at such election shall mark his ballot by stamping in the appropriate voting square a cross (X) opposite the answer he desires to give. Such cross shall be made with a stamp. SECTION 6. That for the holding of such election said City of Glendale shall be, and is hereby consolidated into one municipal election precinct, the boundaries of which said precinct shall be and are hereby fixed as the exterior boundaries of the City of Glendale, and the polling place shall be and is hereby located at the City Hall (708 West Fourth Street) in said City of Glendale, and the Board of Election for such special election is hereby appointed as follows:

Inspectors: R. F. Patterson, Jos. Kirby.
Judges: W. C. Fraley, Samuel Fiske.
Clerks: L. A. Royce, E. A. Blackburn.

Ballot Clerks: J. A. Cole, A. P. Offutt.

And the above named persons are hereby appointed to such offices respectively and their compensation shall be $3 each, for all services.

SECTION 7. That in all particulars not recited in this Ordinance such election shall be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in said City.

SECTION 8. That the City Clerk shall certify to the passage and adoption of this Ordinance by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Board of Trustees of said City, and its approval by the President of said Board, and shall cause said Ordinance to be published once a week for two weeks in THE GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published less than six days a week in said City of Glendale, and thereupon and thereafter it shall take effect and be in full force.

Adopted and approved this 6th day of February, 1911.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

(SEAL) Attest: G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, County of Los Angeles, City of Glendale.

I, G. B. Woodberry, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, do hereby certify that the whole number of members of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale is five, and that the foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members and approved by the President of said Board at a regular meeting held on the 6th day of February, 1911, and that the same was passed by the following vote, to-wit:

Ayes: Anderson, Coker, Lane, Watson, White.

Noes: None.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the City of Glendale this 6th day of February, 1911.

(Seal) G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

MISS JESSIE GRAHAM ENTER-TAINED.

Miss Jessie Graham, of Alliance, Ohio, was honor guest at a luncheon Wednesday noon of last week, given by Mrs. John Orth at her home, 1436 West Third street. Thursday, Mrs. Orth gave a 500 party complimentary to Miss Graham.

REGISTRATION NOTED.

Anyone who has not registered, who wants to vote at the coming bond election, had better register now at the city hall. Only seven days more.

Monster Banquets.

At the wedding feast of Richard, brother of Henry III., there were no fewer than 30,000 dishes, and scarcely less imposing must have been the banquet given on the occasion of the enthronement of Archbishop Neville in the fifteenth century, for mention is made, among other comestibles, of 3,000 dishes of jelly, 2,000 hot custards, 400 swans, 6 wild bulls and 100 pigs. At the noted feasts of the gay and hospitable Prince Hal a favorite dish was what the "epicurean cooks" called "pondorage." It was a savory jumble of partridge, pork and the yolks of eggs boiled first and afterward baked in batter. But the most hospitable entertainer on record was surely Richard II. Ten thousand of his subjects were daily bid to the banquet. In order to cater adequately for such a vast assembly of guests never were there less than 28 oxen supplied, 300 sheep, besides innumerable fowls and choice game. These were handed over each morning at daybreak to the 2,000 cooks employed in the king's kitchen and the prodigious preparations for this huge medieval banquet began.—London Globe.

Parrots in a Fire.

In all likelihood no fireman on duty is going to stand around with his hand in his pockets long enough to read the warning, nevertheless it is printed in large type above the bird fancier's desk:

"In case of fire save the parrots last. They are best able to take care of themselves."

"Looks like hard luck for the parrots," remarked a visitor.

"I have no grudge against them," said the bird man. "I am only trying to protect the smaller and more delicate birds. When a fire starts in a bird store most persons who join the rescue party make a grab for the parrots. First aid should be extended to the canaries. They and other small birds are mighty soon overcome by the smoke. The parrot is no phoenix, but unless he is actually reduced to ashes he can put up a pretty stiff fight against a fire and can hold his own until the rescuers make a second invasion."—New York Sun.

The Menu Card in Its First Form.

In its old fashioned form the menu was usually written large on cards of such imposing dimensions that room for one only could be found at each end of the board. In the medieval dinner this aid to selection must have been an absolute necessity, for the medieval dinner was a mine of surprises. It was divided into courses, as are our own dainty meals; but, whereas nowadays the diner has a general idea that fish will follow soup and that entree is succeeded by relve and can conceive generally the sort of demand that each course will make upon his appetite and digestion, there was no possible arguing as to what was going to happen at an early English dinner, and close study fails to reveal the existence of any principle of arrangement.

The Site of the White House.

The site for the president's palace, as the first map name it, was selected by President Washington and Major L'Enfant when they laid out the federal city in 1792. They purposed to have the president's house and the capital reciprocally close to the long vista formed by Pennsylvania avenue, and they also laid out a parallel connection between the two great buildings. The plans for the house, selected by Washington and Jefferson as the result of a competition in which L'Enfant took part, were drawn by James Hoban, a native of Dublin and a medal man of the Society of Arts of that city.

The Music of the Nightingale.

But the nightingale, another of my airy creatures, breathes such sweet loud music out of her little instrumental throat that it might make mankind to think miracles are not ceased. He that at midnight, when the very laborer sleeps securely, should hear, as I often have, the clear air, the sweet descants, the natural rising and falling, the doubling and redoubling of her voice, might well be lifted above earth and say, Lord, what music hast thou provided for the saints in heaven when thou affordest men such music on earth!—Walton's "The Complete Angler."

Real Tragedy.

"Mrs. Browne was very rude to an overdressed old woman she met on a car the other day."

"I know the story. The old woman turned out to be Matilda's very rich aunt, and now she's going to give all her money to a hospital for decrepit dogs."

"Nothing of the sort. In fact, it's worse. The old woman was the Browne's new cook, and now they haven't any."—Stray Stories.

They Didn't Help.

"Did the audience weep while I was singing?" asked the temperamental soprano.

"No," replied the music director; "you were making that noise all by yourself."—Washington Star.

The Milk in the Coconut.

Probably everybody has wondered at times what kind of stuff the "milk" of the coconut is. One inducement generally held out by the dealer to the prospective purchaser is that the nuts are "all milky." Recent analyses, however, have dissipated the delusion that the fluid has anything in common with real milk. It contains only 4 per cent of solids, consisting chiefly of sugars, 2.8 per cent, the balance being made up of mineral matter and tartaric acid. More than half of the sugar present is mannitol, the sweet principle of manna, which is sometimes found also in wine as a product of normal grape sugar. The question has been discussed as to whether it would be profitable to extract the coconut water for the sake of its cane sugar, but as this amounts to only one-tenth per cent the process would not be commercially successful in spite of the water being a waste product. Even if the water contained 5 per cent of sugar, as some specimens appear to have shown, the recovery of this amount would be unprofitable. The juice of the sugar cane yields nearly 20 per cent of sugar.—New York World.

A Fine Talker.

"I like the looks of this parrot," said the lady who had stepped into the bird store. "Is he a good talker?" The proprietor replied that the bird was an excellent talker, and it was evident the customer was favorably impressed.

"What is your price for him?" she asked.

"The man had noticed the rich apparel worn by his customer, and he judged that there was a chance to make a little 'easy money' at the expense of one who would never miss it.

"Ten dollars," he said, with just the slightest possible hesitation.

"Five dollars, madam," instantly croaked the parrot.

"The lady looked at the proprietor, who had turned red.

"He certainly is a fine talker," she said, "and he also seems to have good sense. I am willing to take him at his own valuation. Do I get him for that?"

"You do," answered the bird man sadly.—Youth's Companion.

The Early Drum.

Drums are probably an eastern idea introduced by the crusaders into Europe. They are frequently mentioned in accounts of the first crusade. When Edward III. of England and his queen made triumphal entry into Calais in 1347 "tambours" were among the instruments which were played in their honor. Another of these was called a "naccare" or kettledrum, taken, together with its name, from the Arabs. The poet Chaucer also mentioned this instrument in his description of the tournament in "The Knight's Tale." The king generally kept a troop of these bandmen or minstrels in his employ, and we read that Edward II. on one occasion gave a sum of 60 shillings to Roger, the trumpeter; Janino, the savorer, and others for their performances. Another minstrel was called the "cheveretter," or player on the bagpipe.

The Plague and the Tan Pits.

Bermondsey's association with the tanning industry was originally due partly to its fine oak woods and partly to the fact that the London slaughter-houses were to a large extent situated in Southwark, on the unfashionable side of the river. For a brief period, however, it enjoyed a certain fame as a health resort. That was, as Sir Henry Trueman Wood reminds us in "Industrial England in the Eighteenth Century," when "terror stricken creatures fled from the ravages of the great plague in the city of London to the Bermondsey tan pits to find strong medicinal virtues in the nauseous smell."

Two Thumbed Gloves.

In so cold a climate as that of Iceland the glove must be put off or on as rapidly and easily as possible, so it is made without fingers, and in order that no time may be wasted in distinguishing between right and left all gloves have two thumbs. You simply thrust your hand into the first glove that comes and your thumb immediately finds its way. There are, of course, drawbacks in the matter of appearance, for the dangling idle thumb looks untidy.—London Chronicle.

The Apocrypha.

There is no other book in the New Testament about which so much has been written and to so little purpose. Dr. South said of it, "It either finds a man mad or makes him so." It is said of Calvin that he showed his wisdom in not writing a commentary on this, as he did on other books.—Chadwick.

Disadvantage in Last Resort.

If you must write love letters, wait until after you are married and write them to your wife. Then you may feel perfectly safe—unless she decides to sue you for divorce on the grounds of insanity.—Puck.

Wear and Tear.

Griggs—After all, the difference between man and woman is one of wear and tear. Griggs—What do you mean? Griggs—Man spends his money foolishly on a tear and a woman on wear.—Oakland Mercury.

Books.

Be as careful of the books you read as of the company you keep, for your habits and character will be as much influenced by the former as the latter.—Paxton Hood.

He is no whole man until he knows how to earn a blameless livelihood.—Emerson.

NOTICE INVITING STREET WORK PROPOSALS.

Pursuant to Statute and to Resolution No. 376 of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 16th day of January, 1911, directing this notice, the undersigned invites and will receive at his office in the City Hall, 708 West Fourth Street, up to 7:30 p. m. of Monday, the 13th day of February, 1911, sealed proposals or bids for the following street work to be done according to the specifications and plans adopted for the said work, on file, to-wit:

That a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width be constructed along each side of Seventh Street from the East line of Brand Boulevard to the West line of Glendale Avenue (excepting such portions of said street between said points along which a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width has already been constructed and now is to the official line and grade), in accordance with Specifications No. 1 for constructing cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, and which said specifications are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

Sec. 2. That the proceedings for the aforesaid improvement shall be taken under an Act of the Legislature of the State of California entitled, "An Act to provide for work upon and the construction of sidewalks and curbing within municipalities," approved March 6, 1909.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid, a check payable to the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent. of the aggregate of the proposal, or a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before any officer competent to administer oaths, for double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. In bidding use blanks which will be furnished by the City Clerk upon application.

Glendale, Cal., 1st day of February, 1911.

G. B. WOODBERRY,

City Clerk and Ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California.

RESOLUTION NO. 377

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDAL ORDERING CERTAIN STREET WORK TO BE DONE ON EAGLE ROCK ROAD.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

SECTION 1. That the street work herein described is required by the public interest and convenience, and the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, hereby orders the same to be done according to the Specifications and Plans adopted for said work, and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets of said city, to-wit:

First: That all of that portion of Eagle Rock Road from a line drawn between the Southwest corner of Lot 79 of Watts' Subdivision of a part of the Rancho San Rafael as per map recorded in Book 5, pages 200-201, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, and the Northeast corner of Lot 74 of said Watts' Subdivision, to a line drawn at right angles across said Eagle Rock Road distant 1143 feet Southeasterly from the Southwest corner of said Lot 79 of said Watts' Subdivision, including all street intersections, excepting therefrom all portions of said Eagle Rock Road included within that certain strip of land 24 feet in width, lying 12 feet Northerly from and parallel with, and 12 feet Southerly from and parallel with a line drawn midway between and parallel with the Southwest lines of Lots 79 and 78 and the Northeast line of Lot 75 of aforesaid Watts' Subdivision, be graded and surfaced in accordance with plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer, and specifications for the grading and surfacing of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 6, excepting that the banks in all cuts and fills shall be made vertical instead of as called for in said specifications.

Section 2. The Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice of said street work inviting sealed proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

Section 3. The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, and for an amount not less than ten per cent. of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

Adopted and approved this 30th day of January, 1911.

LIBRARIAN.

What He Heard.
John is his name, and he lives in Newburg. Further personal details are not necessary. Now, John has a wife who is not as charitable as she might be, and she has a woman friend who has domestic troubles of her own and therefore can and does sympathize with John's wife. Just what time it was when John came in the other morning deponent knoweth not, but certainly it was no sort of time for a married man to be getting home, and his wife told him so, though he knew it perfectly well without being told.
Next morning after John had gone to his office his wife called up the other woman on the telephone and told about John. The other woman was all sympathy, and what the two had to say about the kind of husband John was was more than plenty. In the thick of it a friend of John's got on the wire—not intentionally, of course, for he thought John was a model, but he got there, and it sounded good enough to him to stay and listen. But not for long. Presently he coughed, and there was a sudden silence.
"Who's that?" inquired John's wife.
"It's John," responded the friend and hung up the receiver.—New York Press.

The Waste of the Wind.
Every one who wants a cheap motive force has tried to harness the wind. Every child has made a paper propeller or a windmill. But can it be said that the possible uses of the wind have been as ardently investigated as such recently discovered forces as steam and electricity and gases? Is it not conceivable that the practical uses of the wind are underestimated just because they are so familiar?
We cannot help thinking that the wind will be more variously employed some day in the same way that probably the problem of laying under contribution the great physical fact of the tides will be solved. One would think that the wind could be used for electric lighting, yet there is no practical apparatus for the purpose. True, the wind is variable and occasionally absent, but as electricity can be stored one might suppose that this was the very case in which variability did not particularly matter.—London Spectator.

The Clever Shoe Clerk.
At the cost of considerable time and labor one high grade shoe house is bound to protect its goods. On a rainy day a woman wearing wet shoes went in to buy rubbers. The clerk measured the width and length of her shoes, removed them and brought a new pair of the same size to try on. Visions of a depleted pocketbook caused her to exclaim, "But I don't want new shoes, only rubbers!"
"I understand," said the clerk. "I am only slipping these shoes on to fit the rubbers over. It soils the inside of a rubber to slip it on over a wet shoe. Then if it doesn't fit and the customer doesn't take it it is spoiled for the next customer."

"And the outcome of that experience was," said the woman, "that I bought the shoes as well as the rubbers and had them sent home C. O. D. Maybe that was what he was working for all the time."—New York Sun.

Oddest of Querer Fishes.
A queer fish that does not swim is the "sargasso fish," known to sailors as the "frogfish." It lives in that vast mass of floating gulfweed called the Sargasso sea, in mid-Atlantic.
Its pectoral fins are so modified and developed as to resemble arms, and it uses them for clinging to the weed. Very gaudily colored, it changes its hues to match the aquatic vegetation by which it is surrounded, and when the latter decays and turns brown it assumes a corresponding shade.
The fish lays its eggs in a jelly-like mass, which, absorbing a great quantity of water, becomes three times as big as the mother fish herself, assuming the form of a narrow raft three or four feet long and two to four inches wide.—New York World.

Parnell.
I never saw a braver man than Parnell. The story of his downfall is one of the most pathetic in history. There is a rumor that Captain O'Shea said to Gambetta: "What are we going to do with Parnell? He is getting to be a great danger to the country." And Gambetta replied, "Set a woman on his track." And the woman, instead of betraying him, fell in love with this patriot, and that was his undoing.—"Recollections of Mrs. T. P. O'Connor."

To Discourage Him.
"George," said her husband's wife, "I don't believe you have smoked one of those cigars I gave you on your birthday."

"That's right, my dear," replied his wife's husband. "I'm going to keep them until our Willie wants to learn to smoke."—Chicago News.

Confused.
"She hasn't any confidence in her husband, has she?"
"No. She caught him telling the truth the other day, and now she can't dope him out at all."—Toledo Blade.

All Right, Perhaps.

Reign of the Dandies.
In the matter of dress we have fallen upon a decline since the days when the Duke of Wellington was refused admission to Almack's because he was wearing trousers instead of breeches and silk stockings. Even Almack's, however, had to admit trousers within its closely guarded portals the following year. When Gladstone was "up" at Oxford the reign of the dandies was in full swing. When late in life he revisited the university to lecture to the undergraduates on Homer he was asked by G. W. E. Russell whether he noticed any difference between his audience and the men of his own time.
"Yes," he replied, "in their dress an enormous change. I am told that I had among my audience some of the most highly connected and richest men in the university, and there wasn't one whom I couldn't have dressed from top to toe for £5."—St. James' Gazette.

A "Fast" Train.
"Speaking of railroads," said the truthful man, "the ultimate word, in my experience, was a certain 'limited' on which I traveled last summer. At a point where we were making our greatest speed a man stood at the side of the track with a moving picture machine, I leaned out of the window and called to him. 'How are you getting on?'"

"He stopped turning the crank and spoke with an expression of deep disgust."
"It don't seem to be no use," he said. "Hold your head still, please. I want to get a time exposure."—Every-body's.

Willing to Risk It.

Cawston Ostrich Farm Stock

Total Recapitalization, $1,200,000
Stock Subscribed, $900,000

The Purpose of the Recapitalization is to create the funds for the starting of Cawston Ostrich Feather Stores

In the principal cities of the country, and for a more aggressive advertising campaign. Cawston ostrich feathers are now only sold from the farm direct to the home, also from the farm showroom at South Pasadena, and at the Los Angeles city store. Cawston feathers are never sold by any other stores, and are never sold through agents.

CAWSTON OSTRICH FEATHERS ARE SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY CAWSTON. The starting of these stores will greatly increase the sales of Cawston plumes, for a great many feathers will be sold to people who cannot be reached by the present selling methods employed, and also by many who would buy larger and more expensive feathers if they could go to a Cawston store and select the feathers from stock.

BUSINESS LOCALS

For Sale, Rent and Exchange

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—My San Joaquin Valley ranch. Business reasons compel me to leave in Southern California and I wish to sell or exchange my property in Merced county. I will take a dwelling house property or a small ranch in Southern California as part of the purchase price, or sell at a very low price on easy terms. It is a rich, deep alluvial bottom land upon which the overflow of the Chowchilla river has deposited a sandy loam for ages. No hard pan or alkali. An abundant supply of artesian water only 14 feet from the surface. Electric power for pumping makes irrigation cheaper and surer than ditch water. Especially adapted for dairying, horse raising, etc. All under cultivation. One and one-half miles to two railroads. Creamery takes all your cream from your door. The soil, while best for alfalfa, will positively produce anything but oranges and lemons. For full particulars address: A. V. Swanson, Merced, Cal. 5w-38

DISTRIBUTING GAS SYSTEM

Approximate Cost of Work in Glendale Fifty Thousand Dollars—Ten Miles of Pipe to be Laid

The Southern California Gas Company, successor to the Domestic Gas Company, has completed plans for the building of a distributing system in Glendale. It will involve the laying of ten miles of pipe and will cost approximately $50,000. The work will cover the entire territory north of First street in Glendale; all of Kenwood, Fourth and Fifth streets, and that part of Tenth, Moore, San Fernando road and Third street that is not covered by the present system.

City officials of Glendale are preparing to issue a notice to property owners to put in the connecting lines at the time of the company work upon each street, so as to provide against frequent excavations in the streets and roads.

The following permanent officers of the Southern California Gas Company have been elected: W. G. Kerchoff, president; A. C. Balch, first vice-president; A. N. Kemp, second vice-president and controller; L. N. Farnum, secretary.

"I do the very best I know how—the very best I can, and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right what is said against me won't amount to anything; if the end brings me out wrong ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."—Abraham Lincoln.

The United States recently landed eight marines in a South American city to prevent a battle between two opposing armies, and they did it! A few days ago fifteen regular soldiers were sent from San Diego to preserve peace along the border. And yet Mr. Hobson demands a larger army!

Mr. Anthony Ambrosini has recently bought through Wm. H. Slipp, seven hundred and twenty acres of alfalfa land in Kings county, just north of Tulare lake, and which was once covered by the lake. Alfalfa matures here without irrigating after the plants are once started. Mr. Ambrosini has bought this tract with the crop established and promises of big results. The purchase price was $46,800.

Mr. W. G. Shaw, spent Sunday in Glendale visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. J. M. Banker and family. Mr. Shaw's present residence is at Colorado Springs, Colo. He was a resident of Glendale some twenty-five years ago, being the owner of 15 acres on Ninth street, west of Adams. He was naturally surprised at the growth of Glendale, but recalled predictions that he made as to its future when he was a pioneer in the valley, and says that the most surprising thing to him is that the things he promised for this section, gas, electric lights, etc., materialized so soon.

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of Mrs. P. S. McNutt on Tuesday. A very instructive and enjoyable program was rendered.

At the reciprocity meeting of Women's Clubs held in Christopher's grill room Tuesday, Mrs. Mary H. Gridley of Glendale was elected a member of the executive board.

Don't forget to come to the high school on February 24th, one of the best treats in a long time. Be sure to get the NEWS and you'll know just what it's going to be.

On Tuesday morning of last week a boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Laue, 1017 Chestnut street. The youngest will be known as John Arthur Montgomery Lane.

Miss Francis M. Richardson of Los Angeles and Mrs. Frank Taylor of West Glendale, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Church of Grange avenue Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Ella M. Ross has gone to Bakersfield to visit her old time friend, Dr. Katherine W. Ellis and sister and niece, Mrs. Lemanda Lilley and Mrs. F. Frances Torpy of Mariposa.

Mrs. R. E. Chase presided at a dainty luncheon given in her home on Friday last in honor of Mrs. John Hunchberger of Central avenue. Covers were laid for eight guests.

The trustees of the First M. E. church of Casa Verdugo have bought lots at Park avenue and Fountain Place, 150x175, and will begin the erection of a church building in the near future.

Mrs. C. W. Young entertained Mrs. R. A. Peterson and Miss Estelle Filger at the musical given by Madame Elsie von Grose Menasco at the last meeting of the Eagle Rock Twentieth Century Club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rarick of Zanesville, Ohio, and Miss Ella Herron of Cumberland, Ohio, have taken rooms with Mrs. Zona M. Pringley of Fourth street and intend to make Glendale their future home.

Miss Ruth Pinbollow entertained the Girls Culture Club at her home on Ivy street on Saturday and despite the weather a large number of young people were present, and spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

Mrs. Grace Harris of Rochester, N. Y., spent part of the week with Mrs. P. E. Chase. Miss Harris' return to her home in New York on Saturday will terminate a pleasant winter in Southern California.

Any Glendale ladies who are eligible to become members of the Daughters of the American Revolution will please consult Mrs. Mary H. Gridley of Brand boulevard for the purpose of forming a Glendale chapter.

Charles Shropshire of the Steamship South Dakota, which is anchored in San Diego harbor, had leave of absence last week and spent the week end in Glendale with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shropshire.

Mr. G. M. Wilson, who left for Los Angeles, a week ago, expecting to remain about three months, returned to Glendale on Saturday evening. While away Mr. Wilson was a guest at the Sebastian Hotel on West Fifth street.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. church of Casa Verdugo will give a bazaar on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 22d, in the house now used for church services. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the new building fund.

Mr. H. E. Carr of Chicago, and his wife, Lillian S. Carr, the latter well known in musical and literary circles, were the guests of Mr. Carr's sister, Mrs. Georgia Carr, 1449 West Sixth street, several days last week. They are delighted with Glendale, and hope some day it may be their home.

Mr. Wm. Hurb, a wealthy grain and hay merchant of Pittsburg, Pa., is spending some time with his old friends Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kelly of Ivy street. Mr. Hurb arrived in our beautiful city in a driving rainstorm but it didn't put a damper on his spirits at all, and he is simply charmed with Glendale.

Mrs. Richard Addison writes to Glendale friends from Windsor Mills, Ontario, of very severe weather, the mercury registering as low as twenty-four degrees below zero. She thinks that Mr. Addison, herself and little girl will return to Glendale soon.

The L. A. H. Club of the Presbyterian Sunday School spent a very delightful evening at the home of their president, Miss Leeta McCoy. After a delicious supper, the evening was spent playing games. The decorations and favors were suggestive of the Valentine season.

Miss Michelle Le Grande of 1442 West Third street, entertained a number of her friends at a very charming affair, Thursday last. Music and games filled the early part of the evening and a clever proverb guessing contest afforded considerable amusement. Supper at a late hour completed a thoroughly pleasant evening.

Passports in Russia

Every person arriving in Russia is required to surrender his passport to the owner or manager of the hotel or house he stops at and it carries with it information as to the name and ages of his wife and children, as well as the house-owner or hotel proprietor to complete the blank prescribed by law for submission with the passport to the respective police district station for registration. The blanks are made out in duplicate, one copy being filed out at the police station and the other forwarded to the address bureau, at which place it is possible to learn the address of any one residing, temporarily or otherwise, in the city. A similar blank is filled out when the party moves into another house or leaves the city, notation being made as to the destination. The traveler in leaving need only inform the hotel management or house owner, provided he is living in private apartments, of his departure and give the name of the city or country he is bound for.

The Retort Legal

"Sometimes the law seems unjust for the reason that it isn't comprehended," said a judge. "Take the case of the woman prisoner before Sir Edward Coke. This woman appeared in court with her hat on. The judge said sternly:

"A woman may be covered in church, but not when arraigned in a court of justice."

"To this the woman replied: 'It seems singular that I may wear my hat in the presence of God, but not in the presence of man.'"

"And she would appear, in her legal ignorance, to have got the better of the argument until Sir Edward Coke retorted:

"It isn't singular at all. Man, with his weak intellect, cannot discover secrets known to God, and therefore in investigating truth the court must see all obstacles put aside. Accordingly it is fitting that the prisoner's hat be removed and with it the shadow that it casts on her face."

He Didn't Like Connecticut

"I have always had a mild interest," said the lawyer, "in the origin of the Connecticut Yankee's reputation, but I had no idea that it extended so far back until I ran across in the surrogate's office the other day the will of Lewis Morris of Morrisania, made in 1700 and admitted to probate in 1762. It contains this paragraph:

"It is my desire that my son, Gouverneur Morris, may have the best Education that is to be had in England or America but my Express Will and Directions are that he be never sent for that purpose to the Colony of Connecticut, least he should imbibed in his youth that low Craft and cunning so incident to the people of that Country, which is so interwoven in their constitutions that all their art cannot disguise it from the world, the many of them under the Sanctified garb of Religion have Endeavored to impose themselves on the World for honest Men."—New York Sun.

"Beautiful as a Dachsund."

It is in the drawing rooms of the German diplomats and their friends that you meet occasionally the long-haired, aesthetic masculine beings whom you have perhaps noticed skating in the Tiergarten, with their long coats snapping in the breeze, or hunched over a journal at Bauer's—artists and writers whose names every one knows, and there are dozens of young army officers, their cheeks scarred with the wounds of many duels. They talk Wagner and Schopenhauer with serious appreciation, and in the midst of the waltz as they are spinning fragrantly dizzily around and around like an animated top, you may overhear them whispering in her ear, "You are as beautiful as a dachsund."

It is their supreme compliment.—De lineator

A Growsome Bequest

What is probably the strangest and at the same time the most horrible bequest ever made is to be found in the will of Lieutenant de Pap, formerly an officer in a smart regiment of Austrian hussars, who was executed by strangling some years ago for the murder of his brother.

Previous to his execution the murderer requested that he might be photographed while hanging on the gallows and a copy of the ghastly picture sent to his father.

Phil May's Habits

The all night and next day habits of Phil May, the artist, have furnished material for many a story. Joe Tappley, the singer, said that he came across May one night and heard that the latter had not been to bed for four nights and days. He remonstrated, and May said: "Never mind, Joe; we'll make a bargain, don't you lose any sleep on my account, and I'll promise that as soon as I feel tired I'll go to bed."

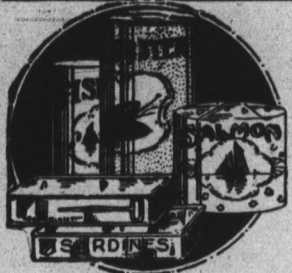

To Win Notices

Mrs. Greene—One does not like to be ignored. I wore a brand new gown at the reception last night, and I don't believe a soul noticed me. Mrs. Gray—There's where you made a mistake. Now, I wore my old black silk that has been turned twice, and everybody saw me fast enough.

Crooked and Straight

In all things throughout the world the men who look for the crooked will see the crooked and the men who look for the straight will see the straight.—John Ruskin.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else.

TROPICO

Prof. Joseph Kirkham, formerly a resident of this place, visited friends here Wednesday morning.

Invitations are out for a Valentine's day party to be given by Miss Kitty Reynolds at her home on Central avenue.

George Clark and wife of Pasadena, passed Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Black at their home on Park avenue.

Harry Marple was a member of a party which passed Saturday and Sunday at Balboa beach. The other members were Frank Finlay and Dr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Davis of Los Angeles.

A small fire occurred at the home of J. E. Shuey on Columbus avenue Monday evening. Quite a number of clothes were destroyed but the fire was extinguished before the home was damaged.

W. G. Black, real estate dealer at this place, tells us that there is five times as many calls for furnished homes in this place as can be supplied. There also are calls for unfurnished homes.

Prof. William Malcom, of El Monte, formerly a resident and property owner here, visited with friends and relatives at this place the early part of the week. Mr. Malcom is now principal of the El Monte grammar school.

Work has been delayed on the improvement of Central avenue for the past week or so. The delay is caused by the ground being too soft, caused by the rain. The large steam roller going over the top of the rock in the roadbed drove the rock into the ground, which, if continued, would have necessitated in laying an extra lot of rock.

G. M. Wilson, living at the corner of Columbus and Hawthorne streets, who was sentenced by Justice Melrose last week to serve ninety days in the county jail, has been released on parole. An appeal was made by his wife to the district attorney and Sheriff Hammel, Mrs. Wilson presenting a petition signed by a number of men from Glendale. After some consideration and an interview with Wilson, which occurred on Tuesday in the jail, he was released on ninety days probation.

By the way things have started out it looks as though the venture of Scott Johnson in the Tropico hotel will be a success. Although the rooms have not been completed there have been a number of calls. Several parties were so urgent in their request that a sufficient number of rooms were furnished and these are now being occupied. The cafe part of the establishment has not been fitted out yet. This proves that this town is growing rapidly.

TO CELEBRATE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

The members of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. of this valley will celebrate Lincoln's birthday next Sunday afternoon, the service being held at the G. A. R. hall at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. C. R. Norton of Glendale, will deliver the sermon on this occasion, and the Marple quartet will render a vocal number. All the people of the valley are invited to attend.

TROPICO LUMBER CO. CHANGES HANDS.

(For Glendale News)
Having sold my lumber yard I desire to thank those who have patronized me during the past four years and earnestly request that you continue to patronize the yard. My successor, Mr. A. J. Neumeyer is an experienced lumber and mill man, and will I am sure under the management of Mr. H. L. McAdams continue to give you the same courteous treatment and prompt service that I have endeavored to give.

JOHN HOBBS.

ITEMS FROM TROPICO M. E. CHURCH.

Next Sunday evening, Rev. F. D. Mathers, district superintendent, will deliver a sermon in this church.

The "Baked Owl" social held at the church last Friday evening was in every way a success. Although the night was very stormy a large company, both young and old, turned out and the evening was much enjoyed by all present. The Los Angeles talent that appeared on the program consisted of Miss Blanchard, vocal solo; Miss Isabelle Smith, of the U. S. C., reading; Miss Beemer of Los Angeles, vocal solo.

For the Luncheon Table

The card party snack or the afternoon tea. We have the finest variety of table delicacies that ever tempted an appetite. Let us send you a list, or better still, come and see how wide is the choice. We make a special feature of FANCY AND STAPLE GROCERIES. A trial will prove it.

SHAVER'S GROCERY

"A Little Store Well Filled."

The big event of the year at this church was the convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society held Tuesday. The session was called to order by Mrs. Ulrich, presiding officer, at an early hour, and during the day the following speakers were heard: Mrs. Sheldon of Los Angeles, "Visions and Prayer;" Mrs. Lucie F. Harrison of Pasadena, general secretary of children's work in the United States, "Importance of Children's Work." At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Harrison talked to the children. Mrs. Belle Anderson, on an important topic, Miss Carrie Leas, "Literature of the Society," Mrs. Florence Sherman, "Work in Corea," Mrs. S. F. Johnson of Pasadena, corresponding secretary of the conference, "Present Special Needs." Mrs. Woodcock of Pasadena conducted a question box. Through the morning hours Miss Myrtle Harrison has charge of the music and Miss Pearl Harrison favored the company with a vocal solo. The music in the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Fannie Marple and Mrs. Halley Taylor of Los Angeles, gave a pleasing vocal selection. A luncheon was served, at noon by the ladies of the local society. The societies represented were Asbury Avenue, Los Angeles; Highland Park M. E.; Garvanza M. E.; Alhambra M. E.; Glendale M. E.; West Glendale; and the First M. E. church of Pasadena.

WEST GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boyd entertained a number of friends from the city on Sunday last.

More new scholars continue to enroll themselves on the register of the West Glendale school. The eighth grade this year has a class of almost thirty pupils, the largest class that has ever been since the school was organized. This class is planning a picnic, moonlight ride or something equally as enjoyable, in the near future.

Mr. Dan Kelly, Jr., one of the proprietors of the new hardware store in the Flower block, can be seen every day, and many times a day in the streets of Glendale with his fine new delivery wagon and fiery steed, his face all wreathed in smiles, and his wagon filled with goods. Mr. Kelly states that business is just fine, and trade continues to increase daily. If all his friends and acquaintances continue to treat him so well, why Dan's face will not be broad enough to hold all the smiles. We haven't had the pleasure of seeing Mr. Cornwell's face yet, but we imagine it has the same expression as that of his partner.

The West Glendale school suffered the loss of almost 500 gallons of fuel last week. The tank was filled on Thursday and on Monday it was found to be empty. At first there was something mysterious about it, as there was no leak in the tank whatever, and no signs of any oil seeping out around it, but upon further investigation it was found that the pipe leading from the tank to the building had been broken by the heavy weight of the big auto delivery wagon sinking through the sand and resting on the pipe. The pipe is some eight or nine inches under ground and it wasn't until some days after that the oil commenced to seep through the ground and the mystery was cleared. About $25 or $30 loss, and a few cold rooms for one day.

J. O. C.

The J. O. C. girls met at the home of Misses Lillian and Birdie Shropshire last Thursday evening. The early part of the evening was spent in sewing and planning future work for the Orphan's home. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Reinart on February 16th.

ST. MARK'S GUILD.

A very busy day for St. Mark's Guild was Thursday, when several members assembled in the guild hall to tie dainty comforters. After the work was done, refreshments were served, and social intercourse was enjoyed by all. The next regular meeting will be Feb. 23, at 2:30 p. m.

CORRECTION.

In our list of kinds of business represented in Glendale as published in the special just issued, omission was accidentally made of our five dry goods stores and three restaurants. It is needless to inform any one acquainted with the city that these industries are amply represented at present.

Tamed Him.
"Slip me a brace of cackles," ordered the chesty looking young man with a bored air as he perched on the first stool in the lunch room.
"A what?" asked the waitress as she placed a glass of water before him.
"Adam and Eve sat on their backs! A pair of sunny siders!" said the young man in an exasperated tone.
"You got me, kid," returned the waitress. "Watcha want?"
"Eggs up," said the young man. "Eggs, the kind that come before the hen or after, I never knew which."
"Why didn't you say so in the first place?" asked the waitress. "You'd 'a' had 'em by this time."
"Well, of all things!" said the young man.
"I knew what he was drivin' at all the time," began the waitress as the young man departed. "But he's one of them fellers that thinks they can get by with anything. He don't know that they're using plain English now in restaurants."—Kansas City Times.

Knew Just How.
Many years ago in Paris at the first presentation of a tragedy that had for its closing scene the murder of a Swedish king which had taken place nearly half a century earlier all went well till the murder scene came on, when a very dignified old gentleman in the stage box showed signs of strong dissatisfaction and at length called out angrily:
"Absurd! They've got it all wrong!"
The manager himself heard this plain spoken comment, and, being naturally disturbed by so sweeping a condemnation, he sought out the critic and politely begged to know what fault he had to find with it.

"Why, my good sir," cried the old man, with an air of authority, "the whole grouping of the scene is incorrect! You have made them kill the king to the right of the door, whereas we murdered him on the left!"

The Tea Chewers.
"Chewing tea comes from Siam," said a traveler. "They call it ulung. It is, in a plug, like chewing tobacco, and it has a villainous smell. This smell is due to the fermentation it has undergone. The tea that the Siamese employ for chewing purposes is a very coarse, rank plant. It is gathered like ordinary tea, but the leaves after being compressed into plugs are buried for fifteen days. They ferment during burial. On their resurrection they are very, very fragrant indeed. The Siamese boatmen chew tea. The rickshawmen chew it. The litterbearers chew it. They say it makes them work better. This is probably the truth, for I chewed a plug myself in Anam, and it exhilarated me strangely. But the aftermath was bad—a headache, smarting eyes and nervous depression."—Washington Post.

When Tolstoy Tried to Fly.
From earliest childhood Tolstoy was remarkably observant of the things that were going on in the world around him. Thus, while still in his teens, we find him taking an interest in the art of flying that was too practical to suit his devoted mother. With characteristic thoroughness he invented a design of his own and with equally characteristic courage proceeded to put it to an immediate test from a second story window. But the boy, who was afterward to find food for thought for the whole civilized world, was not destined to make his mark as an infant aeroplanist. He fell instantly to the ground, and, though by great good fortune no bones were actually broken, the concussion was so great that young Tolstoy afterward slept for sixteen hours on end.

Joy For Johnny.
Johnny's mother was telling Johnny stories from Bible history. And Johnny for a long time was very silent. At last he sighed and looked up questioningly into his mother's face.
"When I get to heaven shall I know every one?" he asked.
"Yes, indeed," answered his mother. "Napoleon, and Samuel, and George Washington, and Solomon, and—and David?" persisted Johnny.
"Certainly, dear!"
"Well, then, mother, if I'm very good—if I'm ever so good and ask him ever so nicely, do you think that David will let me touch his slingshot—just touch it—once?"—Philadelphia Times.

Death.
Death, the dry pedant, spares neither the rose nor the thistle, nor does he forget the solitary blade of grass in the distant waste. He destroys thoroughly and unceasingly. Everywhere we may see how he crushes to dust plants and beasts, men and their works. Even the Egyptian pyramids, that would seem to defy him, are trophies of his power, monuments of decay, graves of primeval kings.—Heinrich Heine.

Pa's Idea.
"What was the trouble at the building of the tower of Babel, pa?"
"I'm not certain, but I think it was between the union and the nonunion workmen."—New York Press.
